The officers report directly to the executive committee, but do not have voting rights within the organisation to avoid any conflict of interest

Officers

All eligible national federations or national team organisations shall be entitled to select a representative to form the general assembly.

The general assembly may propose amendments to the constitution, attend official MIHWA meetings, scrutinise reports, and vote on amendments, changes and ultimately Executive committee positions.

It is planned to meet twice annually, once for an AGM and another 6 months from that date to facilitate the above and engage with the stakeholders of this movement

Selection of this representative is the preview of the National Organisation

This selection should be made prior to the first AGM in June 2024, during the Jaca World Cup event

Procedures

Proposals for consideration should be submitted in advance for discussion to the executive and the assembly.

Proposals (motions) which are seconded shall be considered and discussed, and subject to vote by the next proposed assembly meeting

Constitutional amendments must be ratified by a super majority as per the constitution

Election of officers shall be introduced as motions at the end of their term, or if the position becomes vacant prior to that

MIHWA into the future

▶ This movement, this event, this spectacle, it is ours to steward into the future. It is ours to look after, and keep healthy and strong, so we may all continue to play as long as there are wheels to spin and pucks to shoot.
